Introduction

In this Assignment I will make a plan for the website that will advertise different mobile phones. Their techs and references to the websites you can buy phones.

Purpose, User Requirements and Audience

The purpose of the website is to make decisions. To attract people interested in buying mobile phones, a website should be easy to use and quick to load. It should have at least eight pages, one of which should include a table, the website should have a consistent look and feel across all pages, with the same text, colour schemes, and page styles, to make the website interesting, it should include at least four different multimedia or digital assets, such as digital graphics or digital video. The website should also have interactive features, such as a feedback form to collect customer inquiries, to provide additional value to customers, the website should have at least two external hyperlinks to other interesting web pages and be internally linked with easy-to-navigate menus. Finally, the website should contain a link to an online forum.

Styles to be used across the site: (font size, style, colour, screen width etc.)

As minimum you should include;

- the main body text: Lexend
- at least 2 heading styles: Bangee Shade
- screen width: 1440

Production Notes: (background colour, background image, link colours)

Page Width: 1440px

Link colour: #1ea4c9

Visited/Active link: #42a6c2

Link hover: #78d6f0

Description of how colour schemes and page styles will be applied consistently across all of the web pages.

Create a template (.dwt) for the site and all pages are generated from this template to ensure consistency of style and layout.

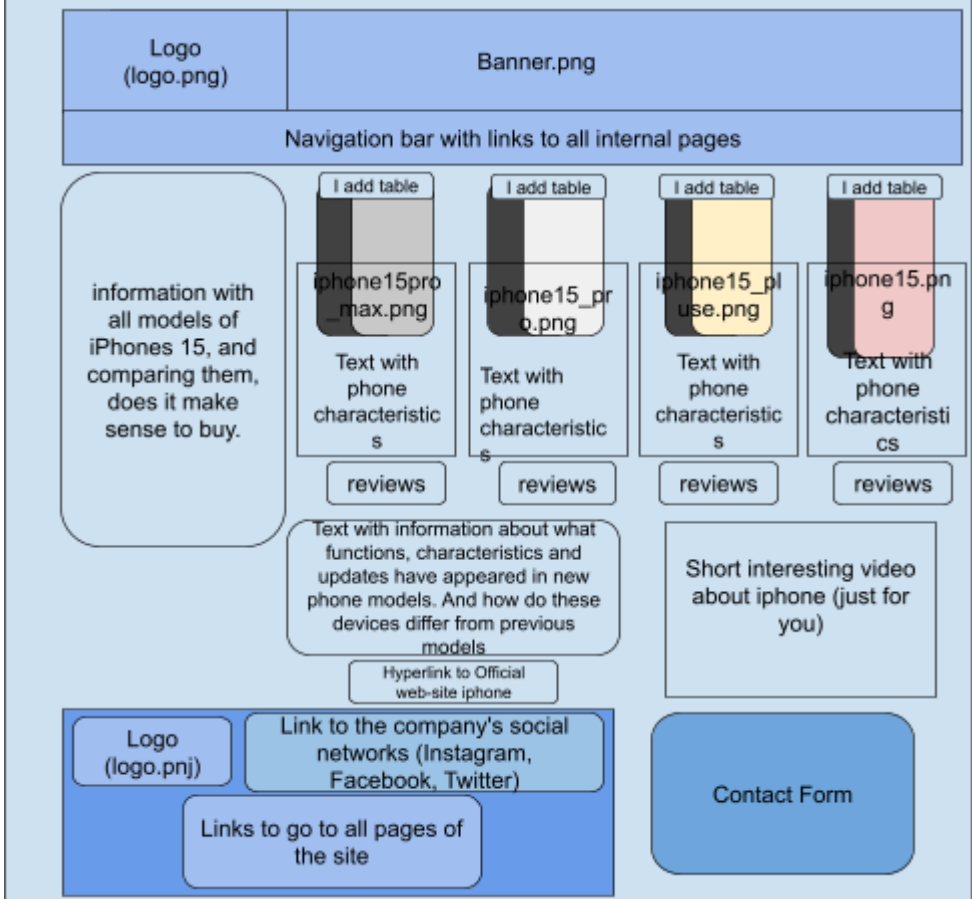

Inline styles and heading styles are used to ensure formatting and color consistency.

Test Plan & Log

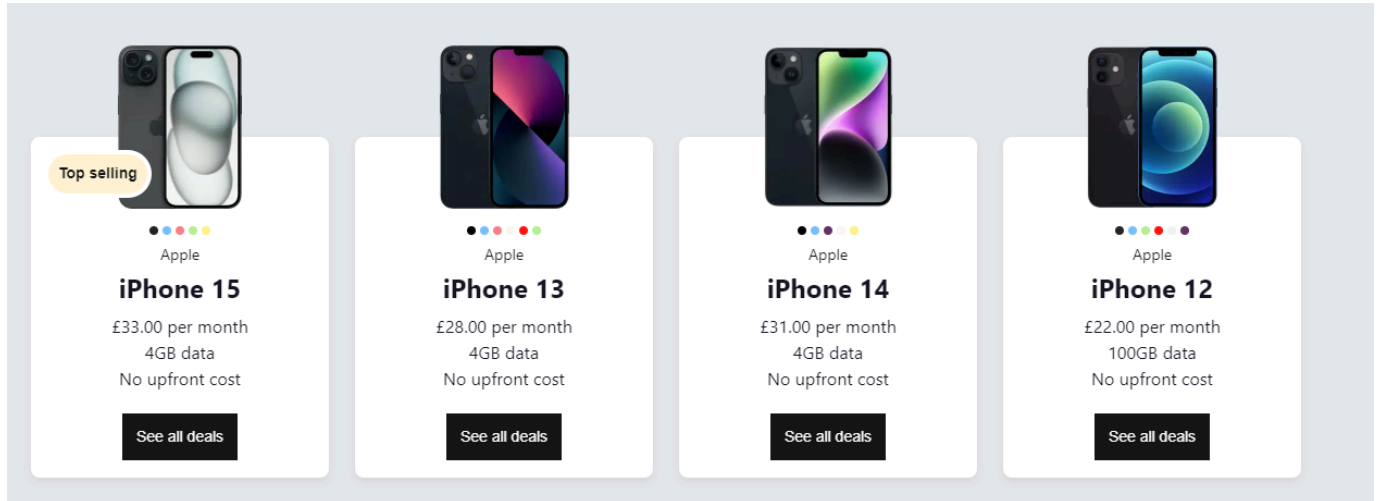

Developer Name:

Website:

[illegible]

Evidence of ideas and prototypes.

- a screenshot of the idea/prototype:

- where the idea/prototype is from: <https://www.uswitch.com/mobiles/>

- how and where in your website you hope to use it: Apple..htm, Samsung.htm, xiaomi.htm,

Description of interactive features and how these will improve usability, presentation or accessibility.

-Interactive is a function with which the user can interact on the site without refreshing the page or without switching to another page

-I have 4 interactive videos on my sites that help you make a choice between different techniques. There are also forms for feedback on the website

-Interactivity improves the usability of the site, making it more functional, for example: a video clip with information will be more useful than a simple photo with text, as a video can provide more information.

Justification (how the design will meet the purpose and user requirements)

- The client asked to include a table, so I added photos of the phones and their information in the form of a table
- The client asked to include a Form, so I added a separate web page for feedback (Forms)
- The client requested to include Interactivity, so I added 4 videos to the webpages and form
- The client asked to include Links, so I added a Navigation Bar with links to all sites and a separate place for all Hyperlinks at the very bottom of the site
- The client asked to include Purpose making decisions, so I made a site with the purpose of comparing phones, accessories and sim cards

Any design constraints encountered.
